

Learn English at your own pace

DAEKYO, an educational corporation, has established a global milestone in childhood education by introducing the E.nopi concept. It is currently operating in over 15 countries and helping over 4.2 million students worldwide.

E.nopi Math, introduced in 2004, was established as part of Daekyo's globalised education programme. Recognising the importance of the English language today, E.nopi English was launched in Malaysia last October.

E.nopi English is designed to help students master English and enhance their four fundamental language skills: listening, speaking, reading, and writing. The programme aims to improve these four inter-related language skills through repetitive practices in a variety of topics.

A comprehensive programme, using the four language skills, has been developed and is based on the US Department of Education curriculum standards for English Language Arts.

E.nopi English programme helps students develop their knowledge in English, improve critical thinking and obtain comprehensive skills through a systematic process of language acquisition and repeated reading practice.

The E.nopi English syllabus complies with the standards of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE), an American professional organisation devoted to improve the teaching and learning of English and the English language arts at all levels of education.

There's ample room for innovation and creativity in the English Language Arts programme.

In the E.nopi English programme, various themes and diverse strategies are applied to motivate students, nurture study habits, and develop their language capabilities.

Basic Language Arts help students acquire basic language skills through essential language structure, reading and writing.

E.nopi English covers a broad range of reference material from literature (including the classics, contemporary writings and popular narratives, poems, songs, and plays) to informational and academic of the students.

After a consultation session with the parents, a diagnostic test coupled with the instructor's observation will help determine the students' appropriate starting point.

The students' progress will be monitored through achievement and comprehensive tests.

By allowing students to progress at their own pace, E.nopi helps to build their confidence and inspire them to improve their academic performance and become motivated to learn new things with a proactive attitude.

E.nopi English also makes learning interesting and fun. Students are taught with tools such as individualised and colourful worksheets, workbooks, audio CDs and flash cards.

Some students may start at a lower level, but they have the opportunity to grasp the basics that they may not have fully understood. So, students can advance steadily at a comfortable pace, and at the same time realise their full potential.

E.nopi English is a systematic programme and is composed of eight levels. E.nopi English is a supplementary programme that helps children master the core skills that one needs to master the English language.
